CLIMBERS SWEEP WHITE SOX SERIES; NINE IN A ROW

Walter Johnson Mows Down Callahan's Comets; Final Score 7 to 1.

WHITE NO PUZZLE

Chicago, Ill., June 8.-Griff's fight. ing youngsters made a clean sweep of the Chicago series by winning to-day's game 7 to 1. Walter Johnson was in the box, and the Kansas Cyclone gained sweet revenge for damage inflicted by 'Callahan's Comets during the meteoric flight of the said Comets through the East Iast month, Johnson deserved a shut out, and would have gotten it had not Dan Moeller lost Callahan's easy fly in the sun, during the third inning. On two other occasions the white bosed gents threatened to disturb the placid demeanor of Johnson's contenance, but swell double play engineered by Shanks in the fifth, and a little extra steam by Johnson himself in the ninth, averted the threatening disaster.

HOODOO IS WHIPPED. Our old citizen, Doc G. Harris White, pulled his Indian sign out of cold storage and had it nicely painted for to-day's game. But the club which faced White esterday was not the old bunch to whom White had been a thousand ter-os. Griff's youngsters simply waded in and hit the ball on the nose. Five rousing swats, linked with a base on balls and a batter hit, yielded five runs in the Nationals' second. Such a slaughter would cause most pitchers to collapse, but White stuck to his task. Ale was thumped for a tally in the fourth and one mars in the ninth. Time and again the Nationals populated the sacks, but the lanky dentist pulled himself to-gether in time to avoid trouble.

Howard Shanks the Hero. There was one play yesterday which stood out head and shoulders over everything else, and Howard Shanks was the ceeded to let the whole Washington team run him to earth, while Harry Lord hiked to second. A wild throw by Ain-smith sent the ball past Foster, and Shanks, who was backing up third, picked up the ball and started after Lord, who had moved up to within ten feet of third base. Shanks chased Lord to second, touching him with the while about two yards from the bag.

KRAMER BETTERS OWN TIME

Cambridge, Mass., June 8.-Once again Americans may be proudly confident that their flag will fly at the top of a foreign staff in significance of the athletic championship of the world. The nation's athletes in the Olympic tryouts at the Harvard Stadium this aftryous at the narvard Stanium ins at-termon showed that they will sally abroad once again with the speed, the skill and the strength that in each pre-vious meeting of the world's best, have brought victory to the Stars ant Stripes. In fact, they are speedler, more skillui-those of them seen here—than any ther team which has carried Uncle Sam's colors. More new records must go to the credit More new records must go to the credit of this record-breaking season as the result of to-lay's competition.

Abel Kiviat, the wonderful little runner of the Irish-American A. C. pulled down a full second from his own great mark in the 1,500 meters, covering the run in 2:554-5, and then going for the mile record, and stepping that distance in 4:353-5, a tiny one-fifth second back of John Paul Jones' world's mark.

made only last Saturday by Bob Gard-ner, of Yale, was badly beaten by Mark Wright, of Dartmouth, who cleared the bar with the aid of his long bamboo at 13 feet 2 1-4 linches.

Works Is Off Color-Red Sox Win signis of the Long Island A. C., broke his own record for the 10,000 meter by margin, running the distance in practically unpaced. Incidental owered every fractional mark from 51-4 Yanke to $1-4 miles.

The Offmpic record of 10 4-5 seconds for the 100 meters was equaled by Hirry Drew, a little colored youth from the Springfield High School, who beat the famous Ralph Craig in that event, and aguin by Craig in winning a trial heat.
Tremendous ovations were given to the new record winners. The Stadium has rarely heard such an outburst of cheers rarely heard such an outburst of cheers as that which followed the flight of Wright (a wingless aeroplant), over the high bar, which followed a sprint of little Abel Kivint across the finish line. The only disappointment of the day was provided by the great Western jumper, Hotine. A world's record was expected of him if of any one. But the big fellow was in poor shape and falled to clear the bar at six feet one inch, which is said to be seven inches less which is said to be seven inches less than a mark he made in practice the day. He was unplaced in the

These Nationals have the best ball ciuh that ever represented the Capital. They are a credit to the league. I don't see how anybody can keep them out of the first division. BASEBALL TOPIC IN EVERY HOME

Joyous to the verge of hysteria, happier than ever before, and brimming over with enthusiasm, fans of the Capital City were lifted from the realm of reason into a dreamland of dope yesterday when Griffith's Galloping Grabbers capped the climax of their phenomenal feats by plunging the White Sox into the depth of despair to the tune of 7 to 1, adding the fourth consecutive defeat to Callahan's Chicagos, and placing the total of the Nationals straight victories at the figure of nine Conservatism went by the board with big splash in fandom, and the hallucination of a pennant-a world's championship pennant-floating idly in the breeze from the pole in the ball yard at Seventh and Florida Avenue loomed up, not only in the hary light of a possibility, but in the brilliant hues of a probability.

Fandom Noncommittal.

While the wise men in both leagues say othing, silenced by a dumfounding array of facts, winard sporting editors hesitate to make predictions for fear they will augur unwisely and Griffith and his folowers put all their talking energy into heir ball playing, the fans have begun to alk and the talk is rapidly assuming a resemblance to delirium as the Cilmbing resemblance to desirion as the Climbing Kids smash proceedents with a juvenile indifference, and victory to victory, and all the while toll steadily but straight upward to a pinnacle of prowest seldom attained by a team in Washington uniforms. Probably never before has Washington been so baseball mad, and as each day witnesses another concerns the conton been so baseball mad, and as each day witnesses another conquest the enthusiasm of the National Capital is swelling past all high-water marks. Baseball is the talk of the hour. Even the advent of 100.00 Enights of Columbus falled to dispel temporarily the pennant phastamagoria hanging over the city. Even in homes where heratofore baseball has been given no part in conversation, the subject of the Nationals' success is now accorded the honor of a leading topic.
